TEACHING STRATEGIES & ACTIVITIES: Disability awareness incorporates sensitivity training so the audience can empathize with the injustices individuals with disabilities face. Videos, extensive materials and resources, federal guidelines, and current best practices will highlight the content and allow for attendees to best respond and interact with all citizens in their community. RELATION AND IMPACT TO LAW

ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS: The ability to respond appropriately to situations, whatever the magnitude, is essential in the initial interaction involving individuals. 50-80% of interactions by an officer involve an individual with a disability and they are most often the first to respond. High profile events have exposed the lack of training and preparedness in responding to this population. This training addresses every area of response and specific interaction skills in encountering individuals with disabilities, challenges faced and how to overcome them, federal/state guidelines and supports provided, victimization, identifying and working with service providers, and the latest initiatives and programs. Attendees will also be provided with an in-depth explanation of why society discriminates against individuals with disabilities and the injustices that occur.

Program Background

In September 2010, the New York State Developmental Disabilities Planning Council funded a five-year $750,000 grant to Niagara University to develop curriculum for the training of 9-1-1 telecommunicators, police officers, firefighters, and emergency medical services in the state of New York. Other states have since contracted with NU, recognizing the program as the only comprehensive disability awareness education for first responders in the nation.

NU developed training in collaboration with New York State law enforcement associations and NYS DCJS, whereby they have revised and upgraded the Basic Course for Police Officers with this program. The program has been accredited by the Missouri POST and VA DCJS, was contacted by the U.S. Department of Justice to develop a program, and is creating curriculum for South Dakota LEA.
